STATEMENTS, AND ARE CARLYING "SAVE-THE-HORSE" OVER SKEPTICISM, PREJUDICE AND CACERLAINTY.

Quogne, L. L. N. Y.—Gentlemen: "Save-the Horse," which I purchased from you, will do all you recommend. The two horses I used it on were both laid up, one for six weeks or more and the other for ten weeks. The first one had a large splint running from ankle-joint to knee, also enlarged tendons on same leg. I used your liniment on the large about two weeks, according to directions, then commenced to drive him and have worked him hard on a butcher wagen ever since. He is now round. The other horse belonged to a friend of mine that has a routage here for the summer; his mare made a misstep and injured her ankle. It became large and calloused and she could not go. He employed two veterinary surgeons, then he got another to fire the anicle and kept doing so for a while, still his mure could not go and was to use to him. I told him when he got through doctoring her to send her to my stable and my man would cure het with "Save the Horse." He did so. She was kept still for two weeks, then I teld him he could drive her moderately, but that she was to stay at my stable until my man got through applying "save-the Horse." I sent her back to the livery stable last week and she can go ye fast, as far and as quick as any horse on earth now, and go sound. The result of the firing shows, and always will, otherwise she is perfect. He drove her to Eastport last week in 38 minutes, which is ten miles. I consider "Save the Horse" will do more than you recommend it to do and will do more than the Horse" will do more than you recommend it to do and will do more than any liniment I ever used. I enclose check for $5 for another bottle; I did not expect to give you a detailed report of the horses, but could not do otherwise after seeing how the horses came out WM. H. CAMERON, Real Est. Aging Bicknell, Ind.—I had a three-year-old filly with bone spavin, which had been lame for fitteen months or more. I used "Save-the-Horse" as directed and the spavin left at once and I didn't use quite half the bottle. I then had a mule which had thoroughpin on both legs and I used the rest of the bottle on them. They are not entirely gone, but I think if I had used the entire rontents of the bottle on them they wone have gone. I have used many spavin cures but regard yours the best I ever had.
